Revised Points System

On 1 January 2007 the University of Otago introduced a revised system for the points assigned to each paper, to conform to a national standard for New Zealand universities.

The points for papers taken in or after 2007 are three times those in previous years (e.g. a paper worth 6 points in 2006 is worth 18 points from 2007).

On academic records the points shown for each paper are those for the system in use at the time the paper was passed.

Grade Point Average (GPA) information

The University of Otago uses a 9-point scale for calculating GPA values. An annual GPA is calculated using the grades for all papers (including failed papers) attempted by a student during a given year. It is a weighted average, taking into account the differing point values of papers. A cumulative GPA is calculated for all results to date. For further information see blogs.otago.ac.nz/evison/files/2014/07/Grade-Point-Averages.pdf
