

Template investment term sheet

User notes

This is a simple term sheet for use when a company is raising capital from seed investors. It sets out the terms agreed between the company and the investor prior to preparing the formal agreements. Generally in this type of fund raising the formal agreements will be a subscription agreement – see the template subscription agreement in the fund raising section - and, if necessary, a shareholders' agreement and new constitution – see our template constitution and shareholders' agreement in the governance section. The term sheet is not legally binding (other than the confidentiality obligations in part B); it simply sets out the terms agreed in relation to an investment.

There are no standard terms that apply to investment from seed investors – these types of investments can often be relatively informal and may not include the investor protection provisions required by professional investors or formal investor groups such as angel groups. Most NZ angel groups use the (investor-friendly) NZVIF standard term sheet (available on NZVIF's website: <http://www.nzvif.co.nz/seed-co-investment-information.html>) and professional investors will have their own form of term sheet.

Under New Zealand securities legislation, a company may not issue (or offer to issue) shares, options or other securities without providing detailed disclosure information to the new shareholders unless it is satisfied that an exception to the information disclosure requirements of the Financial Markets Conduct Act 2013 applies in relation to that offer or issue.

Please see our NZ securities law – tech company capital raising guide under the capital raising section of the guides page of our website for an explanation of the relevant exclusions. A company must ensure that an exclusion applies before it offers to issue, or issues, shares.

The User Notes and the statements in the footer below (all marked in red) are included to assist in the preparation of this document. They are for reference only – you should delete all user notes and the statements in the footer from the final form of your document.

The use of [square brackets] around black text means that:

- ▲ the requested details need to be inserted
- ▲ there are different options for you to consider within a clause
- ▲ the whole clause is optional and you need to consider whether to include it, based on the company's circumstances and the user notes.

Before finalising your document, check for all square brackets to ensure you have considered the relevant option and ensure that all square brackets have been deleted.

If you delete any clauses or schedules, remember to cross reference check the document.

No directors' fees will be payable.]

Pre-emptive rights and drag and tag along:

In addition to usual pre-emptive rights:

- ▲ drag-along rights will apply where shareholder(s) wish to sell 75% or more of the Shares in the Company to a third party (so that the Shareholders selling their Shares may require the other Shareholders to sell all of their Shares on the same terms); and
- ▲ tag-along rights will apply where shareholder(s) wish to sell more than 50% of the Shares in the Company to a third party (so that the shareholder(s) wishing to sell must procure the buyer to make a binding offer to buy the Shares of the other Shareholders who wish to sell on the same terms).

[User note:

- ▲ Drag-along rights entitle a specified majority of shareholders to force the remaining (minority) shareholders to sell their shares if a major shareholding in the Company is to be sold. The existing shareholders will benefit from having drag-along rights (as minority shareholders will not be able to prevent a sale of the Company).
- ▲ Tag-along rights entitle minority shareholders to sell their shares if a major shareholding in the Company is to be sold. It is reasonable for an investor to have the benefit of the tag-along right so it can participate in a sale by the majority.
- ▲ Pre-emptive rights (meaning the obligation on shareholders to offer their shares to existing shareholders before selling them to a third party) and tag and drag along rights should be included in the Company's constitution. See the template constitution in the governance section of the templates page of our website.]
